

TIE FOR THIRD PLACE CLOSES DRILL CONTEST

The main event of the entire celebration was the big jackhammer contest. This contest was the biggest ever held anywhere in the world. Tonopah is known to possess the best and fastest drillers to be found anywhere and each and every one of the contestants sustained the reputation.

The committee in charge of this event is to be congratulated for the fair and systematic manner in which the contest was handled. The judges proved themselves capable and only one protest was registered. This was the case of Spencer of Goldfield, whom many claimed drilled one minute longer than the allotted time.

James Burke, with a Sullivan, was the first man to drill through the big rock, which created a sensation. He looked like the winner until Oscar Riva also went through and got a good start on a second hole, making a total of 61.7-16 inches. Adam Oigi and M. Leitch tied for third place, whereupon the tie was drilled after the contest, which resulted in the latter's favor. The final score was: Leitch 60% inches and Oigi 56.5-16 inches.

The contest brought out several surprises and disappointments. The one big surprise was the utter failure of the favorites to secure the money. Clute, Marshall, Spencer, Dahlin, Carley, Wilder, Lefevre, Richardson, Farrow and Kohl were all favorites, but all had more or less hard luck with the exception of Spencer, whom many claim drilled one minute in excess of the usual time. Mark Page, superintendent of the Manhattan Consolidated, who was boosting for the Sullivan machines, protested to the judges, but no cognizance was taken and Spencer's hole was allowed.

Richardson, of the Cash Boy, who was the prime favorite in the betting, and whom it is believed would have surely gotten first money, met with hard luck when his water hose became disconnected in the fourth minute, causing him loss of time and a plugged steel, which practically put him out of the running.

Charlie Dahlin, known as one of the "Terrible Swedes" and an old-timer in drilling contests, only drilled 48% inches.

Bert Clute, an ex-demonstrator for the Ingersoll company, upon whom many placed their money, did not make the showing predicted by his friends.

Billy Marshall and Sammy Hodge proved themselves to be two of the fastest men on the rock and made many friends by their quick coupling and changes of steels. The friends of Marshall claim he would have been in the money had he used a Denver, because of his strength and tact to hold it down.

Wilder and Lefevre, who used Sullivan, did not get away with any great speed, which caused their backers disappointment, who had seen them in practice.

Carley, with an Ingersoll, only drilled 27 inches and was also a disappointment to those who had seen him in practice.

There was perhaps more money lost on Richardson, who used a Denver, than any other contestant. Up to the point where his water hose became disconnected, he was drilling, according to experts who were carefully watching every man's move, at the rate of nine inches a minute, which, if continued, would have resulted in a hole 63 inches, capturing first money. He was unquestionably the star performer and will bear watching in future contests.

Considerable talk was heard last evening of another match between Richardson and Riva. One sporting man who had backed Richardson heavily was desirous of seeing a return match and remarked that he would bet $1000 to $500 on Richardson, if a return match could be had. Inasmuch as this contest created so much interest and enthusiasm, it is more than likely that another big contest will be held Labor day.

VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE ESPEE GREETED FRIENDS IN TONOPAH

E. O. McCormick, vice president of the Southern Pacific railroad, accompanied by J. M. Fulton, assistant general freight and passenger agent for Nevada, and T. Bergerson, traveling representative, arrived in Tonopah this morning on No. 34 in the private car "Sunset," and after visiting the mill of the Belmont and getting acquainted with some of the leading business men, continued this afternoon by special train to Goldfield, where they will take a train on the Clark road for Los Angeles, where they expect to arrive Sunday morning. From Los Angeles the party will go on to Arizona, reaching Phoenix over the Apache trail. Mr. McCormick was enthusiastic over the outlook in Nevada, saying he had yet to meet the first man who was not impressed with the brightest optimism.

"I never saw anything like it," he declared in the course of a conversation at the Bonanza office. "Everywhere I go it is the same sunny outlook. So far our road is concerned, we have no cause for complaint since we are assured of more potatoes, more ore, more sheep and cattle and more of everything that grows or comes out of the ground than at any previous time. All I can suggest is for the people to get in their supply of coal early, for it begins to look as though we would have trouble in making deliveries later in the season. The same might be said about oil, for, we ourselves, are suffering from the shortage. The Nevada Con at Ely is converting its oil burning equipment to coal burning, effective on the first of August. That company consumes 196 cars of 12,000 gallons every month, and in place will take 1060 tons of coal daily. To keep the Wabuska smelter going we are sending empties back to the Sunnyside mine in order to keep the miners of Nevada with a ready market for their ore. The grain prospect is splendid and Elko county is going to make a record, especially around Metropolis, where wheat stands high and sturdy, safely out of danger. The other day at Honey Lake we dug up 100 carloads of wheat that somebody had overlooked. At Battle Mountain they are sending out 300 tons of ore daily, Luning is shipping 200 tons, Keeler is making good with 400 tons and old Candelaria has come back with 50 tons daily, besides the low grades that are coming to us from Beowawe and Palisade."

Mr. Fulton said the lamb movement is now on, the first seven cars having gone out from Minden yesterday consigned to Chicago on a fruit train with twelve double-deckers, to leave Ely tomorrow. These lambs all born in March are selling at $5 a head.

FIRE PROTECTION UNDER INSPECTION

W. T. Rowley, engineer of the board of fire underwriters for the Pacific coast, arrived this morning to inspect and report on the new fire protection of Tonopah. The visitor spent the day testing out and making a thorough examination under direction of the fire chief. After he satisfies himself Mr. Rowley will report to the association and on this report will depend the future rating of the city.

OFFICERS BOARD HAS BEEN NAMED

J. M. Gregory, chairman, Fred Bradshaw and R. B. Govan have been appointed a board of examiners for Nye county to receive applications from candidates wishing to secure appointment to the higher offices in the army. After a physical examination the applicant must pass the local committee and then take another examination at Reno. Applications must be in before July 13th, as the list must be completed in Reno for the entire state not later than July 15th.

The Traveler's Test.

The eminent traveler James Bruce was highly touchy whenever his veracity was called into question. It happened that when dining one day at a friend's house one of the guests observed that it was impossible that the natives of Abyssinia could eat raw meat. Without making any reply Bruce forthwith left the table and before long returned from the kitchen with a piece of raw beefsteak, peppered and salted in the Abyssinian fashion. Placing this in front of the guest, who had doubted his word, he said, "Sir, you will eat this or fight me!" The guest preferred the former alternative. Thereupon Bruce calmly observed, "Now, sir, you will never say again that it is impossible."

Singing Crickets.

In Japan if one will leave the hotel and the tourist office and the cocktail drinkers and go out into the real native quarter there are enough things to interest any one. One old man passes with his load of crickets, which sing in hot weather and are kept in cages like so many canaries. These gentle creatures make a noise like a squeaky axle, and one hidden under the hood of a twelve cylinder car would subject the most careful chauffeur to scorn. They are caught with birdlime and make nice little pets, cheap to buy and not requiring gasoline for the upkeep.

AMALGAMATED MINE HAS GOOD SHOWING

Following is the weekly report of the Union Amalgamated Mining Company of Manhattan:

Six hundred level east drift advanced 37 feet, total 401 feet; west drift advanced 20 feet, total 206 feet; No. 6 north crosscut advanced 20 feet, total 33 feet.

At 390 feet in the east drift what is known as the Pierce fault, was encountered. A complete change in the face from hard limestone to shale will greatly improve the footage from now on and the Swanson ore shoot should be cut in about three weeks. The west drift has encountered about three feet of fairly good milling ore, which is increasing in value as the drift advances. No. 6 north crosscut, following a north and south fissure vein, is showing great improvement and will probably cut an ore shoot in another couple of weeks.

As a whole, the mine shows a vast improvement and something sensational may be expected before the 1st of August.

S. C. DURKEE, Supt.

ORE IN CROSSCUT OF THE MONARCH

Ore was encountered in the new crosscut off the 1025 raise of the Monarch-Pittsburg this morning. The vein is 20 inches in width and a special assay ran this morning, taken across its entire width, gave a return of $61. It is not known as yet whether or not this is the same vein as followed down in the winze from the $50 level. According to projection, the crosscut should be driven between 40 and 50 feet before tapping the winze vein. The above mentioned vein was encountered at a distance of 10 feet in the crosscut and has an extension breccia foot and hanging wall, and since the vein as shown in the winze has a west end rhyolite hanging, it is more than likely that this is simply a feeder to the big vein. The management prefers to await further developments before determining anything definite. It is very encouraging, however, as this new find demonstrates the possibilities of this property at depth.

KEEP THE TOWN CLEAN.

Make it a Campaign to Last as Long as There's Work to Do.

Don't call it a cleanup day or a cleanup week when you start out to really do something to make your town or community a cleaner, safer, healthier place in which to live, suggests a state board of health bulletin. Or, rather, don't let it be the prevailing idea that one day or one week is sufficient in which to clean up and get rid of all nuisances and health dangers. And, what is still more important, don't think that when you have cleaned out a few vacant lots and alleys, set out a few trees and carted off the trash and papers from a few back yards that you have had a successful cleanup campaign. As a matter of fact, you haven't touched the dirty dirt or removed any of the real dangers to health and safety.

It is true that trash and rubbish are unsightly and should be removed, but in comparison to flies and the feeding and breeding places of flies rubbish is not the filthy filth that we think it is. To some people flies may not look as bad as trash, but it is only to those who don't know where they breed, what they eat and the number and kind of disease germs they carry on their feet. It is this kind of filth that a cleanup campaign should go after and clean up.

A cleanup campaign should not stop at a week, at a month or a season unless the town or community has in reality reached the point where it can clean up and keep clean. No spasmodic effort at cleanliness gets results. It does not only fail to get a clean and attractive town; but it is worse than nothing as a means of safeguarding health. The cleanup campaign that is worth while is that which induces the people to clean up and keep clean all the year round and which goes after the dangerous filth—flies, surface closets that admit flies and breeding places for flies. Breeding places for mosquitoes might well be added to the list.

Hay in Church.

A curious custom has been observed from time immemorial at Old Weston, Huntingdonshire, in England. The church there is dedicated to St. Swithin, and on the Sunday most nearly approaching St. Swithin's day the edifice is strewn with new mown hay.

The tradition is that an old lady bequeathed a field for charitable purposes on condition that the tenant provided the hay to lessen the annoyance caused by the squeaking of the new shoes worn by the villagers on Feast Sunday. There are other explanations—one that it is an offering of the first fruits of the hay harvest, and another that it is a survival of the custom of strewing the church (when the floor was only beaten earth) with rushes.

Diseases.

Diseases are not isolated afflictions of the single organs or groups of organs in which they manifest themselves—mumps, of the salivary glands; typhoid, of the bowels; consumption, of the lungs; nephritis, of the kidneys; eczema, of the skin, and so on—but are a failure of the body as a whole to carry on its functions, and the particular organs in which the symptoms appear are merely groups of cells that for specific reasons show the defect.

In the New York Medical Journal Dr. Smith Ely Jelliffe, the famous specialist in nervous and mental diseases, says this conception of disease is as old as Hippocrates, but is "too frequently overlooked in an era of absorbing specialistic investigation."

Our Business in China.

You ought to see the American business representative in China. It would do your heart good. They are the younger set, clean cut, strong, alert, efficient. The first thing they do when they land in the heart of China is to run up the Stars and Stripes, and then they go out and find a buyer for their goods.

But the flag first, with them. The United States must get behind these missionaries of its commercial life, as it gets behind its religious missionaries. —Victor Mordock in Kansas City Star.

Shark Skin Leather.

The use of shark skins for leather is becoming a large industry, and many fishing sloops are now engaged in the business of catching sharks. This work is common in both the Atlantic and the Pacific. The shark has never been considered as anything more than an enemy of man, but the leather industries of the country are finding a good use for it.

BUTLER THEATER

A film operetta, something new in motion pictures, is the attraction at the Butler this evening. It is the William Fox production, "Royal Romance," with Virginia Pearson in the leading role. Never was there a happier or more daintily humorous picture presented to the public. Princess Sylvia, played by Miss Pearson, refused to wed the Emperor Maximilian of Rhaetia (Irving Cummings) because his ministers and not his heart suggested the match. On a hunting trip she meets the Emperor traveling incog. He falls in love with her at once, despite the fact that she is posing as an English girl. When he is called to his capital Sylvia and her mother follow. There she saves him from an assassin. After introducing his saviour to the court Maximilian asks her to become his morganatic wife. She refuses and then he determines to make her his empress. The ministers are stirred at this. The premier determines to block the match and asks Gerald (Boyce Combs), Sylvia's brother, to compromise the English girl by taking her to an inn. Gerald agrees. Misunderstandings are finally cleared up and Maximilian asks Sylvia to become his empress. She accepts. There will also be a two-reel Fox comedy, "His Policy," featuring the celebrated comedian, Charles Conklin. Tomorrow, Viola Dana, in "The Mortal Sin," and a two-reel L-Ko comedy.
